

MEXICO DISCUSSING AMERICAN INVASION

A. B. C., Mexico City, newspaper, creates sensation in Southern Republic by Editorial Comment.

7 WAYS OF INTERVENTION

Remedy for Internal Troubles Prescribed Following Criticism of U. S.—Uncle Sam Feared

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Plans of American intervention in Mexico were disclosed yesterday by the Mexican Foreign Minister, who spoke of a resolution regarding affairs of the state department. Particular interest was manifested here today in one article agreeing in the A. B. C. which is said to have stated coming of a rebellion in the southern Republic.

This article points out in detail seven ways in which the United States might intervene and discusses each in detail. The seven methods enumerated are:

Complete invasion, which the paper admits would result in victory for the United States.

Partial invasion by the seizure of frontier posts and customs houses, which it is said would weaken the armament of the revolution, disperse its forces, and cause dissension and disunity.

Presenting an ultimatum to the government requiring assurances that the rebellion would be ended in a definite period; payment of foreign claims within a prescribed time; assumption of foreign debt service and final disposition of the foreign question. The paper said the present government could not give these guarantees.

Acting as arbiter between the contending Mexican factions.

Nothing could come of arbitration, the paper said, adding that the present government would "deserve its ignominy to enter into any negotiations with its enemy."

"We do not share the views of our colleagues in the paper. The statement of Ambassador Fletcher favorable to the Mexican government may perhaps force the United States to extend for a while the policy of watchful waiting or possibly stimulate our government, realizing that it is a matter of life and death for us, and what is more important for us, to extend its influence. However, we are in the threat of intervention at its doors."

"How then can we save ourselves?" By sacrificing ourselves on behalf of the country; by sacrificing power, by respecting the laws, by handling public money with unquestionable integrity; by sinking all partisan passion, and, lastly, by making an appeal to the whole nation to rally around the same flag, free from bitterness as to the past and from fears as to the future."

A periscope has been designed to enable a person looking into a store window to see an even larger display of goods on an upper floor of the store.

A new fruit has been discovered near Torreon, Mexico, yielding about 15 per cent of oil of high lubricating value.

NIPISAN

For Blood Disease and pus germs. No mercury, Salvarsan or injections. Not a patent medicine, but a powerful spring water that produces almost immediate results. Price 25 cents a day. All drug stores. Valuable folder sent upon request. Calif. Med. Springs Co., P. O. Box 485, San Francisco.

Alkali in Soap

Bad for the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it. The best thing for steady use is Modified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and better than anything else you can buy.

One or two teaspoonsful will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair ripe and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and strong to boot.

You can get Modified coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy. It's very cheap and a few ounces will ample every member of the family for months. —Ady.

Dandruff Surely Destroys the Hair

If you want plenty of thick and curly hair, surely it is not enough to get rid of dandruff. It will damage your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to smear or wash it off. You simply have to get rid of dandruff to rid the scalp of those tiny clusters of dirt. The only real way to remove dandruff is to wash your hair with soap at night when you sleep, and enough to make the washwater run in earnest with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and free of foul hair infections will completely disappear and control it never, ever again, soap and trace me.

You will find, too, that after bathing and drying off the scalp, your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You won't need any hair dressings. It's inexpensive and your clothes will be well worth the price. This simple remedy never fails. —Ady.

REVEALS HUNS' PLOT IN MEXICO TO INVADE U. S.

CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION
WAS GIVING ADD AND COMFORT TO THE DISCOVERED STATIONS.

Graphs received a salary of $600 a month from Von Rohrhardt. His brother, who held a position in the post office, also received $600 a month for spending and reading private letters and passing the information along to the Germans.

Dr. Altenford said that he passed a report from Governor Calles of Sonora to Rohrhardt, the German agent at Mazatlan, for Dr. Elizalde, who gave his money for a book and taught the type he compiled to Rohrhardt not to Rohrhardt.

Continuing the statement says:

"I was unable to discover that von Rohrhardt ever carried out his plan to turn Mexico into a German colony.

On April 18, 1919, one month before the outbreak of war, Rohrhardt reported to Germany in Mexico to pass on the latest news and the evolution of a plot by Dr. Elizalde to seize the northern part of Mexico.

Elizalde, through several channels, planned plans to seize the northern part of Mexico. The American reports that the first attempt to carry out an ambitious German scheme for the economic conquest and ultimate military domination of Mexico was organized by the German consul, Rohrhardt, at Guadalajara with the active aid of General Calles to build a cement plant with a capacity of 30,000 bags a month at Monterrey, Mexico.

The foundations were completed, he adds, "and materials for the structures were ready when I reported this scheme in time to stop it and the factory had to be abandoned until after the peace treaty had been signed."

After the peace treaty had been signed, the factory was turned over to the government for rebuilding roads and structures and building new ones on the west coast."

Not Neutral

"The American people ought to know," he continues, "that Mexico was not neutral during the war, but an enemy, active to the extent of 100% limited capacity."

Mexico gave no fewer than 80 German officers, commissions in the Mexican army and assigned them to train troops for service against the United States. German uniforms were so common in Mexico that soon the United States people complained about them.

Moreover, by Carranza's direct orders, Mexican telegraph wires were thrown open to German code messages. I personally carried orders from Carranza to General Calles to permit the spy Wahrtak to send code messages freely.

Prominent Mexican officials were alleged by Dr. Altenford to have been on the payroll of the German embassy. He says:
